Good For Richmond

With the beginning of cold weather the automobile tourists have turned to the south. Singly and in caravans they are daily and nightly passing through Richmond, the half way point between the warmth of the South and the cold of the North. These tourists each year leave thousands of dollars in the State, and, unlike other travelers they take no money from the people as they pass through.

Richmond treats these visitors kindly and out at Joseph Bryan Park there is a splendid camping ground for their benefit. They have hot and cold shower baths, facilities for washing their clothes and a club and a club house to serve as a gathering place.

Out there also is a register on which the tourists are asked to write their opinions of Virginia. This showed the arrival yesterday of travelers from Massachusetts, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Idaho, Tennessee, West Virginia, Michigan, Maryland and Ohio.

What is written on this register constitutes a strong argument for a bond issue for good roads in Virginia, a digest of this w uld read something like the following:

Finest tourists camp between New York and Florida. Rich murders and Virginians in general are most hospitable and kindly. Virginia has fine people and the only thing it needs to make it the greatest State in the Union is better roads. The road from Washington to North Carolina lisr is the worst from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. Good roads mean big dividends to the State; other states realize this.

Methodist Appointments

The following appointments of interest to our readers were made:

Dr. Simpson, Presiding Elder,
Appomattox Memorial—Rev. A. L. Stephenson; Appomattox Circuit—Rev. J. B. Lavender; Brookneal—Rev. L. L. Banks; Concord—Rev. J. W. Boudin; Pamplin—Rev. C. R. James; Buckingham—Rev. R. L. Wingfield; West Buckingham to be supplied by T. H. Stimpson; Cumberland—Rev. O. L. Hagan; Prospect—Rev. O. M. Clark; Memorial, Norfolk—Rev. W. L. Murphy; North Garden—Rev. L. F. Callahan; Henrico—Rev. J. O. Babcock.

Dr. Senter, of Court Street, Lynchburg, goes to Mount Vernon, Danville—A live church in the care of a great leader.

Qualified voters are expected to vote November 6th. Horsley is opposed by Connor and Forward by Byars. These are the only opponents of the party's nominees.

SHORT CUTS IN STATE NEWS

The Latest News From All Over the State

HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK

Danville.—Robert Lester Shaw, of Schoolfield, who last July 13 saved Mrs. C. A. Gillispie and Iris, her 4-year-old daughter, from death at the Stokes land railway crossing, has been tendered a medal by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

Lynchburg.—A drive here for $85,000 for the community chest ended here with the fund short $5,000. The workers, however, agreed to work on a casual manner during the remainder of the week until the fund will have been rounded out. The chest supports the budgets of fifteen local organizations.

Norfolk.—Sale of approximately 200 buildings at the East Camp reservation of the Naval Operating Base, was made to Julius Pesmick, a salvage operator of New York City. His bid was $46,600. Pesmick was the high bidder out of fifty offers for the buildings which were erected during the war at a cost of approximately $950,000.

Norfolk.—Centenary of Indiana Methodist Church, at Bowers Hill, Norfolk county, have brought a new suit in the county court against the school board of Norfolk county for $3,000 damages, growing out of the burning of the church last year. Their claim came to trial last week but, after the evidence was in, the plaintiffs took a non suit.

Lynchburg.—The Lynchburg Post, No. 16, American Legion, has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: commander, Austin T. Quick, Jr.; vice-commander, Frank B. Varney; adjutant, Edward F. Shelley, Jr.; finance officer, Otiris Accorsini; surgeon, Dr. T. N. Davis, Jr.; chaplain, Dr. J. M. Robeson; sergeant-at-arms, A. B. Carter; attorney, T. L. Gilfoyle.

Danville.—The discovery of the dead body of Robert Haigh, aged 76, near here in some woods, resulted in a coroner's inquest, the verdict returned being that the man succumbed to "excessive use of ardent spirits," exposure and hunger. His is believed to have sunk to the ground in a stupor Saturday night and to have perished while knowledge of his whereabouts was unknown.

Winchester—Apple growers of the Winchester district are complaining that certain firms manufacturing barrel stock are taking advantage of the present scarcity of barrels and charging what they claim are abnormal and excessive profits. Some barrel manufacturers are asking 90 cents, which, it is claimed by growers, is not warranted by the cost of material or labor. Others are charging 75 cents.

Danville.—G. E. Burnett, who several weeks ago confessed the murder of Charles Dorsey, in Atlanta, Ga., made another confession, listing over thirty places in Southern States where he had passed bogus checks ranging from $50 to $250. He is quoted as telling Dorsey that he had printed checks of the railway companies and the Standard Oil Company and used these on mercantile establishments of the various cities.

Newport News.—Three freight cars were smashed up and an engine badly damaged when a Chesapeake and Ohio through freight train crashed sideswiped a local freight out of Newport News near Morrison. Railroad officials as Morrison stated that no one was injured, and that a heavy fog was responsible for the wreck, neither engineer being able to see the signals of the other. The fast train from Richmond was delayed about twenty minutes by the wreck, which was practically cleared away at noon.

Fredericksburg.—Definite information concerning the part Fredericksburg Lodge, No. 4, A. F. & A. M., will take at Alexandria, Va., on November 1, when the corner-stone of the magnificent Washington Memorial Temple will be laid at noon, has just been conveyed to W. J. Phillips, master of the lodge by the general chairman of the Alexandria committee. The officers and past masters of Fredericksburg Lodge, Washington and Georgetown lodges, will form a special escort to the Grand Lodge of Virginia, and all other members of these three lodges will unite with other master Masons in the general procession. The officers and past masters of Fredericksburg Lodge, No. 4, will be assigned position on the temple platform and will attend the banquet at 6 P. M.

Fredericksburg.—The Old Trails Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has forwarded the desk which long ago belonged to Betty Washington, as it moves, and it is now occupying its rightful spot in that historic old home. The Kenmore Association is more than deeply grateful to that band of patriotic women so far away, who discovered this treasure and because of its intrinsic worth and great sentimental value, purchased it at a high cost, restored it to its original beauty and presented it to Kenmore.

Norfolk.—The first real test of finger-print evidence the Norfolk police have been able to present in court fell flat when a jury in corporation court acquitted Joseph Baker, alias "Hughes," of charges of robbing several offices. The only evidence against Baker was a fingerprint found on a frame in an office. This finger-print was identified by finger-print experts as being "identical" with those of Baker taken by the police.

Lynchburg.—The first forest fire of see season in the Natural Bridge Federal forest reserve, occurred this week at the head of North Creek, Botetourt county, the first wardens being able to control the blaze only after it spread over eight acres of land. The fire started in an abandoned building, origin of which is undetermined. The fire warden, aided by voluntary crews, which came from surrounding country, saved the blaze from spreading over a large area.

Danville.—Murrell Atelley and Fred Allen, two minors of Schoolfield, have been arrested charged with breaking into and robbing the country store of G. W. Toller, on the Martinsville road. The goods stolen, most of which have been recovered, represented a value of $150. According to the police, both youths have made a confession. County officers declare that the trade-mark on an automobile tire leading from the robbed store to Schoolfield was an important factor in pointing to those alleged to be responsible for the theft.

Salem.—Tom Skeyhill, noted Australian orator and poet, will deliver the first lecture of the year under the Hoover Foundation this week at the Roanoke College gymnasium. His subject is "The New Renaissance of the Near East." Two years ago Mr. Skeyhill addressed the State Bankers' Association in Richmond, and he was conceded to have made the best speech on the program. He toured the Balkan States last year in order to obtain first-hand material for his lectures on European conditions.

Danville.—Police Officer O. T. Cook pursued an automobile which he believed to contain liquor and which was occupied by two men and a woman. He gave chase, forged ahead of the car in another machine and commanded them to halt. Suddenly he found himself looking down the muzzle of an automatic revolver held by the woman. He leaped at her, disarmed her and drawing his own revolver ordered all three to throw up their hands. In Police Court the woman was fined $50 for having a concealed weapon. Dickens was aressed $100 and thirty days in jail. He was driving the machine. There was no liquor in the car.

Fork Union.—Fluvanna closed its most successful fair last week at Carysbrook. Attendance broke all former records. A new feature of the fair was the colored people's department. The United States Producing Company side shows were clean, good shows. Public schools' athletic events and schools exhibits were other features of the fair. Fork Union High School won in athletics by a large score, while Palmyra High won the school exhibit. The frog acting in front of the grand stand was a special free attraction. Horse racing and a tournament were also staged at the fair.

Fredericksburg. — An increasing stream of traffic is now passing over the new Falmouth Bridge spanning the Rappahannock river, one mile above Fredericksburg, which was opened for public travel on October 15. The bridge is well constructed, strong and substantial and should give many years of service. In addition to the through traffic which will use the bridge as a part of the Richmond-Fredericksburg-Washington Highway, the people of Falmouth and those of the upper part of Stafford county are enabled to reach this city more conveniently than heretofore. The new bridge was erected by the State Highway Commission at a contract price of $90,068, of which $5,377 was for the seventy-six-foot concrete bridge over the canal of Spotsylvania Power Company, on the Fredericksburg side of the river.

Winchester.—When David Lloyd George, former Prime Minister of England, comes to Winchester the latter part of the month on his tour of the Shenandoah Valley battlefields, he will be requested to turn on the water at a fountain that has been erected to the memory of the late Dr. Godfrey L. Miller. The memorial has been erected at a corner of the City Hall Plaza, funds for the work having been contributed voluntarily by friends of Dr. Miller in Virginia and other States. Lloyd George will be asked to deliver a brief address. Dr. Miller was the surgeon-general in charge of all Confederate hospitals in Winchester during the war, and during the struggle he and his assistants performed thousands of operations on wounded soldiers. He died about a year ago at the age of 85, after a brief illness.

Norfolk.—Every possible effort being made to induce President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge to pay Norfolk a visit, for one day at least, during the annual convention of the Atlantic-Deeper Waterways Association, November 13 to 16. A formal invitation has been extended and the convention committees are hopeful that the convention will be marked by the first official visit of President Coolidge. The President has expressed a desire to accept the invitation, if possible, but has given no definite answer as yet.

The Ananias Club.

"I am just as well satisfied when I come home and find my wife is serving a salad with lettuce sandwiches instead of having bothered about getting up a big meal," declared the man who had an appetite like a horse.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Young Animals Fed on Bottle.

Lion and tiger cubs are frequently raised on the bottle and later are fed on ground pigeon meat, says Nature Magazine. Baby elephants relish bread and milk. Some of the best camels now in American "zoos" have been raised on cow's milk given in a nursing bottle.

A Vain Vein.

The young man who has a vein of sentiment usually discovers when he starts up against the callous world that his sentiment is all in vain.—Boston Transcript.

STATE CAPITAL

Urge Abolishment Of Governor's Staff

Virginia will pass out as a "Colonel" State if a pending recommendation of the commission on simplification of State government to abolish the Governor's staff of colonels, is adopted by that body and ratified by the General Assembly. The matter has been on the calendar of the commission some time, but it is desired to consult the Governor with the view of not impairing the honors that have already gone to the members of Governor Trinkle's staff or the standing of those who have in the past wore the gorgeous uniforms trimmed in gold braid.

It is pointed out by those favoring the abolishment of the Governor's staff of colonels, that there are around thirty-six colonels appointed every four years, and that very few of these have military training and in times of stress many of them cannot measure up to military requirements.

The proposition is to pass legislation empowering the chief executive to name such officers on his staff from the established military of the State, each to retain their ranking while serving as an aide to the Governor.

Poor Roads Ruin School System.

Dr. W. T. Sanger, secretary of the State Board of Education, who has recently visited practically every section of Virginia, declared that if the State did not adopt at once a definite road policy, the educational forces of the State would be tremendously handicapped in the development of consolidated schools, which have promised so much for the future of rural life.

Delay in the matter means possibly the wreck of the school systems of many counties, said Dr. Sanger, in discussing the matter. A real road policy of a definite permanent nature is not only necessary in order that there might be progress in the matter of education in the rural districts, but is necessary even to hold what advance has already been made, he said.

Society Circus November 10.

The Virginia Headquarters of the Thomas Jefferson National Memorial Association will give a society circus, which will include a burlesque auction sale, at the Grays' Armory on November 10, for the benefit of the memorial fund and to assist in raising Richmond's allotted quota of $50,000.

Miss Eric Lee Bowcock, of New York City, will have the management of the circus, and Miss Ruth Cunningham, who first inaugurated the memorial project in 1913, will direct it. There will be two performances, matinee and evening of the same day, November 10.

Highway Employes Out Of Bond Fight

Notice that employes of the State Highway Department must not take an active part in the bond issues campaign, which is now in full swing in the State, has been sent out by Henry G. Shirley, chairman of the commission.

Following is the notice, directed to "Employes of the State Highway Commission":

"It has come to the attention of the commission that certain employes are taking active part in the campaign now going on, which is in direct violation of the rules of the commission.

"It must be clearly understood that any man or woman has a right to vote as their conscience may dictate, and is free to vote for whom he or she may wish, or for any question that may be presented, but they must not take an active part or use their official position in any way to influence or to help any candidate or cause."

Relic for Museum.

There reposed in the Governor's office for several hours Tuesday an iron and steel lock, 12 inches long and 10 inches wide, an inch thick, and weighing 25 pounds, the key being 6 inches long, the lock having been taken from the old jail at the Southampton Court house, where Nat Turner, who in 1831 staged the famous insurrection, was a prisoner. The lock will be placed in the State Museum.

To Close Poorhouse.

Supervisors of Halifax county have voted to sell the county almshouse and to pay for the care of four dependants in an adjoining county.

Richmond Ready To Greet Lloyd George.

Richmond is looking forward to the visit of David Lloyd George, former Prime Minister of England, on Sunday, October 28, and elaborate plans are being made by the committee in charge of arrangements, to prepare for the appearance here of the famous statesman.

Mr. Lloyd George will not deliver a public address while in the city, the condition of his throat having caused him to cancel a number of speaking engagements. He will visit the city in the spirit of Southern ideals of Sunday observance and no reception will be given in his honor on the day of the arrival.

The former Premier of England will be the guest of John Stewart Bryan, at Laburnum, while in Richmond.

OBITUARIES

Ruth Mae, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Blackwell October 8th, 1923. She was 8 years and 21 days old. She was a bright little girl and loved by all who knew her. She was kind, affectionate and obedient and truly missed in her home, where she was loved dearly by all. "But the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord." She was remembered by her teachers and grade at school, who sent a beautiful floral design. The funeral was conducted at the home of her parents, by Rev. H. P. East, among a large crowd of friends and relatives. She was laid to rest in the Baptist cemetery. The little grave was covered with flowers.

We had a little treasure once,
She was our joy and pride.
We loved her perhaps too well,
For soon she slept and died.

Around her little grave we linger
Till the setting sun is low
And each day we will meet in Heaven
Where we will part no more.

Grieve not for the little treasure
For we know she has gone to rest
She is a little Angel in Heaven
With the saints and the blest.

Card of Thanks

We wish in this way to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during illness and death of our dear little girl, Ruth Mae, and also for beautiful floral designs and use of cars.

James W. and Ida V. Blackwell and brother and sisters.

VERA

The annual picnic at Liberty Chapel was one of the "pleasant spots" in the otherwise drab existence of a great many of the rural population. Good eats, good fellowship and a generally good time prevailed and all went home happy looking forward a year hence to another such pleasant gathering. Who knows what will happen and how many of us will be here a year hence and what the conditions will be? Time is ringing its changes, and prophecies are being fulfilled so rapidly, that on serious second thought, one is bound to realize that we are living in the time of the end. What a wonderful time to live in! and how thankful we should be that we have been privileged to live in this wonderful age, "And when these things begin to come to pass, then look it up and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh" Luke 21-28.

The fair was another source of pleasure as well as profit to the rural districts. The exhibits were the best that have ever been shown. Our community was well represented in the exhibits.

The baby show scored one in our community little Laura Moss Kinney the three year o'd daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kinney carried off the blue ribbon in her class, and the prize which accompanied it was a silver knife fork and spoon.

Misses Oys Childers and Elizabeth Mays who attended the Liberty Chapel picnic returned to Lynchburg Sunday evening.

Mrs. S. T. Megginson and children who have been visiting in Lynchburg the past two weeks returned home Sunday.

S. T. Megginson spent Sunday in Lynchburg.

R. A. Steffans, of Norfolk, visited friends here last week.

Dr. H. B. Foster, of Littleton, N. C., spent the week-end with his wife here.

J. J. Konnegan has sold his sawing outfit to J. R. Sanders, of Norfolk, who will continue to operate it here.

Mr. Nuttycomb has resumed his "weekly" visits to Stapleton.

Harvey Smith is reported quite ill. We hope soon to hear of his recovery.

Uncle Phil Morgan who was operated on in a Lynchburg hospital recently is reported on the way to recovery.

Monroe Garrett and Will Childers have treated themselves to new trucks. This is becoming quite a progressive community.

George Abbitt has moved his interesting family from his farm to Vera and has opened a store here. They are quite an adjunct to the neighborhood.

Beautiful hands are they that do The work of the noble, good and true:
Busy for them the long day thro.
Beautiful faces, they that wear The light of a pleasing spirit there:
It matters little if dark or fair, And truly beautiful in God's sight
Are the precious souls who love the right.
